

Conversing With God - This Is Who We Are!

*My child,
the beauty of who we are resides within the unexplored depths of your heart.
I have sent my only Son into this world so that you and I can be one just as my Son and I are of one.
This is my desire my child, to walk with you through this journey of life, to dwell richly within your heart; so that one day you may dwell with Me forever in paradise.*

*I AM who I AM...
I AM a part of all things, as everything is a part of me.
So too, are you a part of me and I am a part of you.
We are nourishment, you and I, for this starving world. Our love is a beacon of hope and promise to those who are lost and in distress. Our love is the answer to all questions, the solution to every conflict, and the promise of all hope.
I love this world through you...
I reach out to all through you...
I heal the broken hearted through your compassion...
My mercy on earth exists on earth through your actions...
You are my eyes, my hands, my feet, my presence on earth...*

*Never fear of what you are to say, how you are to act, which direction you should take or how you will carry on...
Know, hold and cherish always in your heart that I AM is always with you and will guide you in every aspect of life. Remember in times when it feels as though I am is far away, that is when I carry you...*

*This is who we are...
This is who I want us to be...
I am light to all peoples through the inspiration of your soul...
I AM love and the full reality of this love is made perfect through your expression of how you love.
Jesus is the truest reality of I AM...
The Spirit is the truest expression of I Am...
And it is through the imitation of Jesus, through the power of the Spirit that You become the fullness of Hope...
This My child is who we are...*
