

God, So Evident...

God, so evident in the stars and in the warmth of the summer's glow
Ever present in the blossom of Spring or the subtle beauty of fresh fallen snow
Ever alive in the unknown mysteries of that which is unseen
God, so evident and yet still unknown

God, so evident Your thumb print is made visible in the most complex details of creation
God, so evident in the vastness of the universe and in the vastness of the unknown
God, so evident in the dancing smile upon a child's face
God, ever present in the cry of one in pain
God, ever still in the storms of our lives

God, so steady, swift and sure
God, so pure, humble and good
God, so loving, patient and kind
God, so gentle, tender and strong
God, so forgiving with grace ever divine

On the wings of the wind You dare to speak
In the chill of the night so silent and meek
In the soothing of a rain in Spring
In the sun as it awakens the earth
In the arms of the tree where the birds find rest and repose
In the strength of water that flows without restraint
In the movement of the sands that shift from day to night
On the waves that roam from shore to shore
So is Your evidence known as You roam from heart to heart

Awake within me, O Creator Divine
The evidence of your presence so deep within
Open my heart beyond all fear
Dare that I may draw to You ever near
Invoke desire beyond all control
For all of You that is found within every soul
God, so evident in all the world
Make known to me
The evidence of You that has been created in me
AMEN
