

Wherever You Lead Me...

Wherever You lead me Lord...

Wherever the Spirit sends me, I will bring Your peace.

In the most frightful of times, I will hold Your peace.

In the most desperate situations, I will be Your peace.

When You call, I will answer.

When You speak, I will listen.

What You forgive, let me forgive as well.

Make of me an example of Your love...

May Your grace flow through the darkest and deepest recesses of my soul and from my soul may Your graces seep forth in abandoned splendor of Your love.

May I not be known because of Your presence, but may You be known because of mine.

May I experience the completeness of the total surrender of myself: mind, body and spirit into the fullness of You.

Keeper of my very essence, lead me a long this journey, instill within me a passion for love, may it become the sole purpose of my existence.

Lead me beyond my fears, hesitations, weaknesses.

Lead me beyond all my limitations of mind and body.

Lead me to the unknown recesses of Your love.

Lead me beyond all judgement, lust and jealousy of my neighbor.

Wherever You may lead, I shall follow.

For wherever You long to lead me, is where I long to be.

AMEN
