

Lord May This Be My Prayer

The Lord hears the silent cries of my soul
He enters the deepest and loneliest depths of my existence
He searches out the lost and unknown talents buried deep within

The Lord is never far from my pain
He embraces my realities and makes them His own
He leads me to places of quiet and restful repose
He holds me close and dear to His heart

The Lord knows all my sins, and all my beauty
He embraces the good, forgives and forgets the wrong
He reaches out to me with Mercy
He bathes my sufferings in His love

Lord, You are the source of all my peace
The refuge of my incompleteness
The strength for all my weakness
The calming presence in stormy seas of my chaos

Lord, You are my shelter that gives me courage to weather the storm
You are my Shepherd who guides me always
You are my consolation, my joy and my delight
Your Spirit excites my imagination
And inspires me to reach beyond my limits

Your graces mingle into every corner of my existence
And transforms my emptiness into openness
That is filled to over-flowing with Your love

Lord, may my trust in You increase evermore fully May I always seek the guidance of Your capable Spirit

Oh Let my prayer never cease
May my heart never stop longing to know You more fully Let my witness to Your love become a source of joy for all
And may this be my prayer today, tomorrow and all days

AMEN