

What Is Ordinary About Faith?

What is Ordinary about faith? The answer...nothing. There is nothing that is Ordinary about faith; however faith can become stale & stagnant, but it will never be ordinary.

To have faith one must have trust and courage to believe that nothing else seems possible, faith exists beyond emotions, beyond human logic and understanding, far beyond all common or rational thought.

“Everything is possible to one who has faith.” Pope Francis

“Faith is the realization of what is hoped for and evidence of things not seen.” Hebrews 11:1

Faith is an expression of the soul, it reveals our humanness, what the eternalness of our being longs to express. God instills within the soul all that the soul needs to experience and express the love of God. The problem remains that we do not live from our souls, we seek to live through our knowledge and experience, which is only truly valuable when the soul is allowed to reveal the true worth/value of our knowledge and experience.

“Genuine faith must be total and complete, not partial, and must express itself as an abiding in the Lord, abiding in Love.”
Pope Francis

Faith is the truest realization and expression of our souls. In faith a soul is free to soar beyond the limitations of our humanness, and journey into the fathomless depths. of God’s wonder and majesty.

*Lord,
inspire my faith that I may live,
as my soul longs for me to live.
Break down the walls of my limitations
and clear the way for my soul to take flight.
May it soar beyond my ability to imagine,
may my soul reach new heights within the depths of Your Spirit.
AMEN*
