

Children Of God

Is the Lord the center of my life? Do I walk as a child of the light? In Mass do I just say the words and sing the songs, or do I take them to heart, praying them from the depths of my soul...

“Welcome one another, then, as Christ welcomed you, for the glory of God.” Romans 15: 7

God's dream is that you and I and all of us will realize that we are family, that we are made for togetherness, for goodness, and for compassion.

Desmond Tutu

“For through faith you are all children of God in Christ Jesus...there is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither slave nor free person, there is not male and female; for you are all one in Christ Jesus.” Galatians 3: 26, 28

In the presence of the Lord, everyone will gather as one people coming from many places to share in the awe and wonder of God's love!

God's graces that he bestows upon us are not just for us, but they are for us to share with others. His graces become apart of us, they are an unshakable part of us. We are called to live out those graces for the benefit of all.

“May the God of endurance and encouragement grant you to think in harmony with one another, in keeping with Christ Jesus, that with one accord you may with one voice glorify the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ. Welcome one another, then, as Christ welcomed you.” Romans 15: 5-6

God has created us for one another, to be each other's keeper, to watch out for and look out for our brothers and sisters. We are all members of the same flock, no matter what religion, if any; where you come from, how much money you have, what your sins are, or who you claim to be. We are God's children, this is our identity. We are all members of the same family and we need to treat each other as such.

Let our voices be heard with a joyful cry to the Lord.

Let our lives be lived with the passion of God's love.

Let us embrace one another with compassion and mercy.

May God unite all people in the light of His love.

May we strive to love every person as God loves them for who they are and for who God has called them to be.

Let the peace of brotherly love flow from every heart and flood the hearts of every person.

Amen

How beautiful is the body of Christ!

To love another person is to see the face of God. Victor Hugo
